N. B. For the Accommodation of the un-opulent, among whom are many firm Friends to the Exploration and Inveſtigation of every Truth, in which Humanity or Chriſtianity are intereſted, who ardently wiſh to ſee the Foundation of civil and religious Liberty fully diſplayed, aſſerted and eſtabliſhed, above, and beyond the Reach of all Human Tyranny, Furneaux's Letters to Blackſtone,----Prieſtley's Remarks,----the extraordinary Caſe of Allen Evans, Eſq;----Lord Mansfield's famous Speech on that remarkable Caſe, &c. &c. are ſold in one Volume, by ROBERT BELL, Bookſeller, and by the Bookſellers in America. Philadelphia, May 1, 1773.

CHARLES CROUCH,
Has juſt received in the laſt Veſſels from London, and to be ſold at his Printing-Office in Elliott-Street,

A Freſh Parcel of Dr. KEYSER'S genuine Pills.—Dr. HILL'S genuine Tincture of Valerian.—Dr. BOERHAAVE'S grand Balſam of Health.—Dr. RYAN'S Incomparable Worm Deſtroying Sugar Plumbs ——Dr. JAMES'S Fever Powders.—Eſſence of Balm of Gilead.

WHERE ALSO MAY BE HAD,
JOYCE'S Great American Balſam, which has proved ſerviceable in moſt Diſorders mentioned in the Directions.

For SALE privately,
The following property of Benjamin Guerard, which he is deſirous of ſelling, to have his intereſt in one place, viz.

A VERY valuable tract of 1000 acres of land, ſituate in Prince William's pariſh, between Combahee and Port Royal Ferries, having on it a ſufficiency of choice high land for two profitable indico plantations, between which 250 barrels of rice may be made in a year, as ground to yield that quantity of barrels can be flowed with water, no part was ever planted, but 60 or 80 acres of it are cleared to begin one plantation, FRESH and NEW, therefore the BETTER and CHEAPER: It is eſteemed as fine a tract for its ſize as moſt in the province, the upland being high, ſo that land floods can never hurt the crops of corn and indico thereon planted. The purchaſer, from the red oak trees that muſt unavoidably come down, in order to his making his fields, may ſtrip a vaſt number of cords of bark: So compact a tract as this, and of the like diſtance from Charles-Town, is very rarely to be found for ſale; which would require no recommendation, if a view by every one in want of ſuch could be taken of it, and which, conſidering the high price of good lands, will be ſold cheap. It pays no quit rent, being part of the rich lands included in Thomas Lowndes's grant, and as 'tis too late in the ſeaſon to prepare for planting for the enſuing crop, the purchaſer's bond ſhall not carry intereſt till ſix months from the date are elapſed.

A delightful retreat eight miles by land or water from town, known to be as well ſituated for pleaſantneſs and agreeableneſs of proſpect as moſt ſeats in the province, on which, open to ſeveral parts of that beautiful river, Aſhley river, ſtands an elegant houſe, with handſome commodious offices; with which will be ſold the large quantity of very genteel furniture now in ſaid houſe.——A very eaſy and deſirable diſtance for a carriage and four or ſix horſes, as a gentleman may come to his buſineſs in town in the morning, and return to his family in the evening.—The inconvenience of not having ſuch a place for a family is at all times great, and much more ſo, when contagious diſorders rage in the metropolis; or thoſe few months in the year arrive, ſo deſtructive to infants kept in town.——It contains 300 acres of land, and is allowed to have the beſt paſtures in its neighbourhood, (having kept all the cattle thereabouts in good condition for ſeveral years paſt) of which, two are now incloſed with a ſtrong new fence, as is alſo a meadow for making hay, has great plenty of fencing and fire-wood trees, and by a gentleman having a turn that way, may be made a place of ſome profit as well as pleaſure, as good crops of corn have been made on it, and one year when planted with that grain, 60 barrels of rice; but what can be more profitable to grow on it than the graſs it luxuriantly bears, as hay (made with a very few hands) is an article of ſo great demand in town, and never ſells for leſs than ten pounds per thouſand weight, although often near one-third brambles.—It may be viewed at any time.

His two houſes in town, the one on the corner of the Bay, near the Exchange, and the other adjoining in Broad-Street, which (and that very low) rent for £.960 per ann. and are ſo advantageouſly ſituated for trade, as will never be untenanted; beſides which advantage, it is well known theſe houſes were not built as thoſe which are intended to be let, no coſt nor pains being ſpared in getting the materials the beſt of their kind, which were put together in the moſt faithful and neat manner; the wood materials are of the beſt of yellow pine and black cypreſs, and the mortar made of freſh water river gravel, ſo ſtrong a cement as that none of the tiles in the great hurricane in 1752, were blown off, whilſt the roofs of moſt of the houſes tiled or ſlated, were entirely uncovered thereby.——It has often been deſired that the corner houſe ſhould be made a coffee-houſe; £.1050 a year rent will be inſured, but there is no doubt that £.1200 can be got for them, as the rents were never increaſed ſince the building of the Exchange, as ſhould be.—The terms to the purchaſers ſhall be made as convenient as they can deſire. Pleaſe to apply to

JACOB VALK.

THE SUBSCRIBER having determined to decline the DRY GOODS BUSINESS, he will diſpoſe of his remaining ſtock of GOODS, in which are no Articles but what are fit for Family and Plantation Uſe.

ALSO, an Aſſortment of MILLINARY GOODS, which requires no Deſcription; all are freſh, being lately imported; the Terms are Caſh, at Eight for One. If any will purchaſe the Whole, they may have them on lower Terms, and the Time of Payment made eaſy.

All indebted, either in his or Mrs. Thomſon's Name, are requeſted to make Payment to HIM as quickly as poſſible, which will prevent the Accounts, &c. being put into the Hands of a Lawyer to be ſued for.

GEORGE THOMSON.

BOSTON, MAY 3.

By letters from London, we learn, that the pamphlet, containing the votes and proceedings of the town of Boston in November last, had been reprinted there with a judicious preface by the British editor, and was well received by all the lovers of liberty; though, it is said, that Lord D--------h has expressed it as his opinion, "that the resolves of the towns of Roxbury, Marblehead, and Plymouth, (in consequence of the proceedings of this town) contain very extraordinary doctrines, but hopes there will be but few followers of their example: And that the honourable house of representatives would discountenance them:" In which, however, upon receipt of further accounts from hence, his Lordship will be very much disappointed.----

The British Editor's Preface is as follows.

ALL accounts of the discontent so general in our colonies, have of late years been industriously smothered, and concealed here; it seeming to suit the views of the American minister to have it understood, that by his great abilities all faction was subdued, all opposition suppressed, and the whole country quieted.---That the true state of affairs there may be known, and the true causes of that discontent well understood, the following piece (not the production of a private writer) but the unanimous act of a large American city, lately printed in New-England, is republished here. This nation, and the other nations of Europe, may thereby learn with more certainty the grounds of a dissention, that possibly may, sooner or later, have consequences interesting to them all.

The colonies had, from their first settlement, been governed with more ease, than perhaps can be equalled by any instance in history, of dominions so distant. Their affection and respect for this country, while they were treated with kindness, produced an almost implicit obedience to the instructions of the prince, and even to acts of the British parliament, though the right of binding them by a legislature in which they were unrepresented, was never clearly understood. That respect and affection produced a partiality in favour of every thing that was English; whence their preference of English modes and manufactures; their submission to restraints on the importation of foreign goods, which they had but little desire to use; and the monopoly we so long enjoyed of their commerce, to the great enriching of our merchants and artificers. The mistaken policy of the stamp-act first disturbed this happy situation; but the flame thereby raised was soon extinguished by its repeal, and the old harmony restored, with all its concomitant advantages to our commerce. The subsequent act of another administration, which, not content with an established exclusion of foreign manufactures, began to make our own merchandize dearer to the consumers there by heavy duties, revived it again: And combinations were entered into throughout the continent, to stop trading with Britain till those duties should be repealed. All were accordingly repealed but one, the duty on tea. This was reserved professedly as a standing claim and exercise of the right assumed by parliament of laying such duties. The colonies, on this repeal, retracted their agreement, so far as related to all other goods except that on which the duty was retained. This was trumpeted here by the minister for the colonies as a triumph; there it was considered only as a decent and equitable measure, shewing a willingness to meet the mother country in every advance towards a reconciliation. And the disposition to a good understanding was so prevalent, that possibly they might soon have relaxed in the article of tea also. But the system of commissioners of customs, officers without end, with fleets and armies for collecting and enforcing those duties, being continued, these acting with much indiscretion and rashness, giving great and unnecessary trouble and obstruction to business, commencing unjust and vexatious suits, and harrassing commerce in all its branches, while that minister kept the people in a constant state of irritation by instructions which appeared to have no other end than the gratifying his private resentments,* occasioned a persevering adherence to their resolution in that particular: And the event should be a lesson to ministers, not to risque, through pique, the obstructing any one branch of trade, since the course and connection of general business may be thereby disturbed to a degree impossible to be foreseen or imagined. For it appears, that the colonies, finding their humble petitions to have this duty repealed, were rejected and treated with undeserved contempt, and that the produce of the duty was applied to the rewarding with undeserved salaries and pensions every one of their enemies, the duty itself became more odious, and their resolution to starve it more vigorous and obstinate. The Dutch, Danes and French, took the advantage thus offered them by our imprudence, and began to smuggle their teas into the plantations. At first this was somewhat difficult; but at length, as all business improves by practice, it became easy. A coast, 1500 miles in length, could not in all parts be guarded, even by the whole navy of England, especially where the restraining authority was by all the inhabitants deemed unconstitutional, and smuggling of course considered as patriotism. The needy wretches too, who with small salaries were trusted to watch the ports day and night in all weathers, found it easier and more profitable, not only to wink, but to sleep in their beds, the merchant's pay being more generous than the king's. Other India goods also, which by themselves would not have made a smuggling voyage sufficiently profitable, accompanied tea to advantage; and it is feared the cheap French silks, formerly rejected as not to the taste of the colonists, may have found their way with the wares of India, and now established themselves in the popular use and opinion. It is supposed that at least a million of Americans drink tea twice a day, which, at the first cost here, can scarce be reckoned at less than half a guinea a head per annum. This market, that in the five years which have run on since the act passed, would have paid 2,500,000 guineas for tea alone, into the coffers of the company, we have lost to foreigners. Mean while it is said the duties have so diminished, that the whole remittance of the last year amounted to no more than the pitiful sum of 85 pounds, for the expence of some hundred thousands in armed ships and soldiers to support the officers. Hence the tea and other India goods that might have been sold in America, remain rotting in the company's warehouses, while those of foreign ports are known to be cleared by the American demand. Hence in some degree the company's inability to pay their bills; the sinking of their stock, by which millions of property have been annihilated; the lowering of their dividend, whereby so many must be distressed; the loss to government of the stipulated 400,000 pounds a year, which must make a proportionable reduction in our savings towards the discharge of our enormous debt; and hence in part the severe blow suffered by credit in general, to the ruin of many families; the stagnation of business in Spital-Fields and Manchester, through want of vent for their goods, with other future evils, which, as they cannot, from the numerous and secret connections in general commerce, easily be foreseen, can hardly be avoided.

* Some of his circular letters had been criticised and exposed, by one or two of the American Assemblies.

BOSTON, MAY 10.

On Friday last his Excellency the Governor set out from his seat at Milton, on his journey for Hartford; and the same day went from hence the Hon. General Brattle, and the Hon. John Hancock, Esq; who expect to meet Major Hawley at Springfield, the other Commissioner appointed by the General Court to settle the line of jurisdiction between this province and New-York, in order to proceed to Hartford, the place of General Meeting.

Governor Tryon, we hear, is one of the Commissioners on the part of New-York, who with the others, are to be at Hartford, by Wednesday next, which is the day fixed on for opening the Congress.

WILLIAMSBURG, (Virginia) APRIL 22.

Last Friday, Saturday, Monday, and Tuesday, several prisoners were brought to the bar of the General Court to take their trials. Benjamin Cook, Benjamin Woodward, Joseph Cook, and Peter Medley, from Pittsylvania, for counterfeiting Gold and Silver Coins, and passing counterfeit Treasury Notes, were acquitted. The testimony of John Short, the principal evidence against the prisoners, was invalidated by sundry evidences in their behalf, who proved him a most atrocious villain; and their counsel even made a motion in court to have him indicted for perjury. He is since gone off, and has left behind him, in this city, a wife, and six helpless children, in most pitiful circumstances. Moses Terry from Halifax, for passing counterfeits, pleaded guilty, and was pardoned.

SAVANNAH, (in Georgia) JUNE 2.

Last Sunday evening, about 8 o'clock, the Orphan-House Academy was burnt down, occasioned by lightning. The fire spread with such amazing rapidity and swiftness that very little of the household furniture or the books in the Library were saved, and the two new wings would probably have been consumed, had not a kind Providence intervened, and by means of Mr. Morel and his people's great activity preserved them, and all the other buildings from the violence of the flames. It is said the house will be rebuilt as soon as possible with brick.
